

A face can be read like a book...

- Are you tired of the online dating scene where you are deceived by what people say to you about themselves?
People may lie, but their faces don't!
- Do you meet people that you are initially attracted to, only to find out later that you are just not compatible with them?
A person's qualities & disposition are written all over their face!

Join us for an enlightening seminar & mixer as we learn valuable tools to save time & avoid disappointment in dating by learning the ancient art of Face Reading with Personologist, Linda Koski
